

Bacon's, Del., Nov. 11-1893.

Cashier U.S. Mint,

Philadelphia

Dear Sir:-

While visiting your mint, I purchased a book - History of U.S. Mints. in this book I found there are prices paid for ancient coins. as I have 3 pieces please examine them and see if they are of any value. If they are please send me the prices for them and if they are not, please return them. I noticed that one piece (1 cent) is worth $4.00 according to your book. Let me hear from you as soon as possible.

Yours truly

Erving Lybber

Bacon's

Del.

The enclosed coins are of value, on account of being very much worn. The New Jersey Cent might bring 5 or 10 cents. (Horse head & plow)
P.C.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 184

Bacon's, Del.
November 11, 1893

Cashier U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia,

Dear Sir: -

While visiting your mint, I purchased a book – History of U.S. Mints in this book I find there are prices paid for ancient coins, as I have 3 pieces. Please examine them and see if they are of any value. If they are please send me the prices for them and if they are not, please return them. I noticed that one piece (1 cent) is worth $4.00 according to your books. Let me hear from you as soon as possible.

Yours truly,
Irving Culver
Bacons.
Del.

[Handwritten note at bottom:]

The enclosed coins are of . value . on account of being very much worn. The New Jersey cent might bring 5 or 10 cents. (Haled. head & plow.)

MC.